

WHY SO MANY FAIL

At a meeting of executives recently the question why so many men and women fail was weighed and the unanimous opinion was that they talk too much. A "talker" in an office force not only can't do efficient work but she interferes with the efficiency of others. In a force of ten or twenty men the talking member—the one who feels that he should keep talking—disrupts the whole force. Visitors in work shops, machine shops and mills cause waste, bad product and inefficiency. Much is said by "Yanks" about foreigners getting all the business. Have you ever noticed that they work, early and late, and give service. Many young people fail of a position because of being too much of a talker. A local merchant placed a small "ad" in the Herald for a girl to work in a store; the principal investigation was to learn if she was a "gabbler." Success comes to those who are prompt, polite and attend to business. Don't complain that there are no chances for young people. Just as many as ever for the live ones.

AMERICAN SHIPS ARE WET--GOV'T IS HELPLESS

(By Associated Press)
Washington, July 11.—Confronted with a new problem in the ship liquor tangle by reports of appearance of intoxicants in the dining saloons of government owned vessels, the shipping board has decided that it is without authority to interfere with the drinking of private liquor stocks by passengers aboard such vessels. The board will probably ask a definite ruling from the department of justice. The question involved is whether the police powers of the ship's officers would warrant their interference with liquor drinking by passengers.

One copy of said record shall, within seven days, be forwarded to the selectmen of the town or the chief of police of the city and the other copy retained for one year.

Sect. 11. If any person in purchasing or otherwise securing delivery of a pistol or revolver shall give false information or offer false evidence of his identity he shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than two years.

Sect. 12. No person shall change, alter, remove, or obliterate the name of the maker, model, manufacturer's number, or other mark of identification on any pistol or revolver. Possession of any such firearms upon which the same shall have been changed, altered, removed, or obliterated, shall be presumptive evidence that such possession has changed, altered, removed or obliterated the same. Violations of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Sect. 13. All licenses heretofore issued within the state permitting the carrying of pistols or revolvers upon the person shall expire at midnight of July 31, 1923.

HEALTH FOR WORKING WOMEN

Let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Help You to Become Well.

Thousands of girls have to work in homes, offices, stores, mills or factories who are physically unfit for work, with often an aged or invalid father or mother dependent upon them for support. Standing all day week in and week out, or sitting in cramped positions a girl often contracts some deranged condition of her organic system which calls a halt to her progress and demands restoration to health before she can be of use to herself or anyone else.

For these distressing weaknesses and derangements these girls have found health to do their work in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"Like many girls, I had troubles every month," says Carolyn Mangels, "and they interfered with my work as I could never be sure of my time. My mother often suggested that I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I never did until lately. I had had very good results, and am now a private secretary and do my work without missing a day. I recommend your medicine to every girl who speaks of having troubles like I have had."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

AT THE SHOALS

Rev. Charles R. Joy of Dedham, Mass., who is giving daily talks this week at the meetings of the Unitarian Summer Meetings' Association at the Isle of Shoals, referred to the ministers and laymen alike being inspired at the Shoals by the manifestations of God in the natural world and much of the thought and illustrations used in the sermons or addresses are frequently drawn from nature.

John Burroughs, Mr. Joy said, has done more than anyone else in America to popularize the study of nature and it is interesting to know what kind of a religion a man may have who lives in closest touch with the outdoor world. Burroughs asked many questions of nature and sought himself for the answers, for he believed that the observer must answer his own questions, and in trying to answer such questions he was constantly brought face to face with the underlying mysteries

COMPLAINT AGAINST CHIEF HAYES FOR BEVERLY SHOOTING

Boston, July 10.—Judge George B. Sears of the Salem District Court this morning announced that he had decided to authorize a complaint to issue against Chief of Police John E. Hayes of Beverly on the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon Evelyn Spinney of Lynn, as requested by District Attorney William G. Clark.

Miss Spinney was the young woman who was injured when the chief fired a shot at a motor car containing several Lynn young people, which, he claimed, had failed to stop when he so ordered. The driver of the car, Frank W. Bemis, was found guilty last Saturday of reckless driving, failure to stop when ordered to do so by a police officer and operating without a license in his possession and was fined $60 from which he appealed.

A date for a hearing on the complaint against Chief Hayes will be set at a conference to be held between a representative of the district attorney's office and John P. Feeney, counsel for Chief Hayes.

LEVIATHAN MAKES WIRELESS RECORDS

Chicago, July 10.—Three records in radio communication have been broken by the Leviathan, according to an announcement made by the Western Electric Company here.

"The ship not only broke all previous war-time communication marks by transmitting 15,000 words a day to and from the shore, but managed to keep in constant touch with land radio stations 1000 to 1300 miles away," says the announcement. "By means of new apparatus especially designed for it, the Leviathan operated simultaneously and for long periods two different sending and receiving sets. The steamer carries four antennas, two for sending and two for receiving."

"The newly developed transmitter installed on the Leviathan is designed to send messages on four different wave lengths. A rotary wave-changing switch operated by means of an automobile steering wheel permits almost instantaneous change to any one of four wave lengths—1800, 2100, 2400 or 2500 metres on the Leviathan's antennae. Three of these wave lengths were used on the trial trip—1800, 2100 and 2500 metres—the highest and the lowest were used for transmitting messages and the intermediate one for calling stations."

GOLFERS IN TWENTY-FIVE MILE BATTLE

As the largest golf club in the world Olympia is able to stage such an event without having the contestants play the same hole twice in the 25-mile tour of the four links.

Guaranteed Deposits.

Oklahoma admits that it has learned a valuable lesson in banking. After 16 years of experience with its law guaranteeing deposits in state banks, it has repealed the law, to the satisfaction of the public and the profound relief of conservative bankers.

It has been found that while the guarantee did protect depositors as it was expected to do, it protected them at too high a cost. The fact that losses would be paid out of the fund provided by assessment on all state banks drew into the banking business people lacking experience and caution. Some bankers took chances they might not have taken otherwise. The other bankers, whose own business was conducted more soundly, had to pay for it. There was an unfair tax on the honest, level-headed, efficient banker. As a result, banking in general did not prosper under the guarantee plan. The best of the state bankers inclined more and more to get from under, and change to national banks under the Federal Reserve Act, with adequate supervision and personal character taking the place of the rather artificial guarantee.

The rest of the country learns at Oklahoma's expense. It is not likely that any other state will try the same scheme soon. It appears to work all right in Canada, but it does not work here.

"Unaggressive and Visionless."

Those who make war upon the railroads, in Congress or from the stump or soap box, are accustomed to talk largely of greed. Such accusations, whatever their basis in fact, are made too frequently to carry complete conviction to a rather bored public.

Recently, however, the extreme critics have adopted new tactics and have made the blanket assertion that American rail executives are unaggressive, unprogressive and altogether visionless. It is everybody's privilege to quarrel with train service, and so this new charge falls on willing ears.

However, it is just as well to consider what happened when the Pennsylvania Railroad's Broad Street station burned the other day in Philadelphia. Within six hours after the discovery of the flames, and while every piece of fire-fighting apparatus that could be got together was still resisting the spread of the conflagration, the management had hundreds of wreckers, steel workers, carpenters and electricians busy in the smoke, improvising platforms, building stairways to the elevated tracks and making ready to handle the railroad's enormous commuter traffic.

It may be that the railroad executives are greedy and unaggressive and visionless, but they seem to be on the job. For 20 years the public has tried the policy of abusing them, and the results have not been particularly encouraging. One wonders what a little praise and cooperation would produce.

Understanding Parents.

In a discussion of spanking which has been raging in the "letters from readers" column of a Chicago newspaper the writers divided sharply for and against spanking. There was no happy middle ground. A juvenile court worker finally sent in a letter which might well close the subject. She said in part: "Whether spanking is good or bad all depends. The girls who are brought here do not complain of mere spankings, but they do object to being beaten with clubs and straps. In some cases doubtless the right kind of spanking is useful, though never when the spanking father or mother is merely working off a spell of anger at the child.

"However, the thing that seems to be most destructive of the girl's spirit is nagging. Constant scolding while at home injures their morale more quickly, perhaps, than anything else. And probably this nagging is due to the ignorance of the parents. They do not understand their children or the changes that have been taking place in the lives and environment of children since they themselves were young."

There is the solution to the punishment problem. Parents with understanding are pretty likely to know when spanking is called for or when some other form of punishment is more suitable. It takes thought as well as love to make an understanding parent, however.

Motors and Evolution.

Roger Babson suggests various changes not often thought of that are likely to come with the general use of the automobile.

There is a change already in the industrial balance because of the fact that people are buying automobiles instead of other things. That means readjustment along many lines.

Less money is going to be spent on clothing, he says, and the kind of clothing will change. There will be new diseases and new diets, for people who ride will not require the same food as people who walk. Living conditions will alter greatly as cities spread out over the surrounding country. There may be profound changes in personal habits and economic demands. Business men who understand the new drift and prepare for it are going to make a lot of money in new ways.

A survey shows only three cities out of 40 with enough office space. There's one thing wrong with business,

M'FARLAND TO HEAD THE ELKS

Boston Chosen as the Next Convention City

Atlanta, Ga., July 10.—James D. McFarland of Watertown, S. D., was elected today by the grand lodge of Elks, at its first business session, as grand exalted ruler for the next year. Boston was selected as the meeting place for the 1924 convention.

Mr. McFarland's election came with out opposition. Mr. McFarland will succeed J. Edgar Masters.

Other officers were Harry M. Ticknor of Pasadena, Cal., grand esteemed leading knight; George J. Winslow of Utica, N. Y., grand esteemed loyal knight; Clement Scott of Vancouver, Wash., grand esteemed lecturing knight; Fred Robinson, re-elected grand secretary; John K. Burch of Grand Rapids, Mich., grand treasurer; William P. Murphy of Brownwood, Tex., grand inner guard, and Louis Boismenu of East St. Louis, Ill., member of the board of grand trustees for five years.

The big feature of the day came this afternoon at Piedmont Park, when various Elks patrols staged a monster competitive drill and dress parade, in which was represented all uniformed patrols and bands attending. The competitive drill was won by Jackson, Mich., for the fourth time in a row. The Philadelphia teams, about 300 in all, gave several different kinds of exhibitions, including one in Ford cars, that furnished thrills to the big audience.

While business cares have engaged the attention of many delegates, Garry Hornmann of Cincinnati, famous baseball magnate and John K. Tener of Philadelphia, former Governor of Pennsylvania and former president of the National League, found time today to visit the baseball park and see Atlanta in its victory over Birmingham. Among other prominent delegates here are Henry Morganthau and James Richardson of Cincinnati.

MORE CARE SHOULD BE GIVEN POINT OF GRAVES CEMETERY

One of the spots to be visited by the many sightseers in this city during the summer months is the old Point of Graves cemetery on Mechanic street and near the Portsmouth Yacht Club house. Portsmouth should take pride in at least having the grass kept cut, and the unsightly weeds removed in this old grave yard. Visitors there on July Fourth remarked about its lack of care and that the grass was so high that one could hardly see the stones. The Old Point of Graves cemetery will be visited by many people at the time of the Tercentenary celebration and something should be done to improve its appearance.

In this old grave yard were buried many of the first families of this city and Portsmouth should take civic pride in the Point of Graves cemetery and not have it in its present condition.

This burying ground dates back to 1671 when Captain John Pickering 2d agreed that the town should "have full liberty to enclose about half an acre upon the neck of land on which he liveth, where the people have been wont to be buried, which land shall be appropriated forever unto the use of a burying place." Captain Pickering's father had previously been buried there.

In this old graveyard are many interesting memorials. The oldest stones now legible date back to 1684. Three of the Wentworth family were buried here, and Tobias Lear, father of George Washington's private secretary and his wife, who died in 1781 and 1774.

The neighborhood of this old cemetery was once the most active business part of the town. The decaying warehouses were occupied by Jacob Sheafe and others in 1750 and onward. Later in the War of 1812, when privateering was an important item of Portsmouth enterprise, the old wharf near the cemetery saw the fitting out of the first privateer, the Nancy, commanded by Captain Smart.

NEWS OF THE NAVY AND NAVY YARDS

Visited Charlestown Yard
Joseph J. C. Flanagan, French Consul called at the Charlestown yard on Tuesday to pay his respects to the Commandant, Rear Admiral de Steiguer. He was greeted by a salute of seven guns and the marine guard paraded in his honor.

Painting Contract
The contract for painting the marine barracks in the local yard has been awarded to E. L. Fogg of this city, work to start in August.

Legion to See Fleet
Assistant Secretary Roosevelt has promised a navy fleet to be in San Francisco Bay during the 6th annual National Convention of the American Legion Oct. 15-17.

Admiral R. A. Coontz, U. S. N., commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet, will be present on the armored cruiser U. S. S. "Seattle," during the week of the Legion convalesce.

The great fleet to be assembled there in October will include the battleships California, Maryland, New York, Texas, Arizona, Pennsylvania, New Mexico, Idaho and Tennessee, and probably the Oklahoma, Mississippi and Nevada; the armored cruiser Seattle, destroyer tender Melville, hospital ship Relief, 37 destroyers, and numerous other smaller vessels.

Brilliant social programs, elaborate fleet reviews, night lighting effects of a spectacular order, and several additional features will be staged in conjunction with the presence of the fleet. Eleven hundred commissioned officers and 20,000 enlisted men will constitute the personnel of the fleet.

Short-Sighted Policy

The recent graduation of some four hundred midshipmen at Annapolis is a very welcome help to a sorely beset Navy Department in its efforts to fill the gaps of officers existing in all branches of the naval establishment ashore and afloat. Yet the four hundred are scarcely a drop in the bucket compared with the actually acute needs of the service in respect to officer personnel, especially in the line. The medical corps is also extremely short, but the solution of its problem lies outside the Naval Academy. In view of the situation in the line, it is most deplorable that beginning next year the number of appointees to the Naval Academy, the only source of line officers, will be reduced 40 per cent.

The graduation of this year's class will still leave a shortage of nearly 1,000 line officers from an authorized strength of 5,500—nearly a 20 per cent shortage of the inadequate legal quota. At the present rate of increase it will require over four years to make good this shortage, and the reduction in appointees is therefore apparently designed on the basis of no increase above the present legal allowance. This is a very short-sighted policy.

Five on Leave.
George McPheters, fireman, Andrew Horning, engineer, Harry Clark, electrician, Burleigh Dame, oiler, Harry Ford, fireman, of the yard power plant, are on leave of absence.

Coming for Supplies.
The coast guard cutter Ossipee will arrive at the yard on Thursday for a shipment of supplies.

Working Second Shift.
A dozen or more laborers are on a second shift from 4 p. m. to midnight excavating for the new high pressure boilers to be installed in the power plant.

Some Costly Cat
One of the power plant engineering force is said to be making a hard recovery from his recent experience in a cat deal. The next feline that comes to his domicile will not be any of the breed from South Berwick. The transportation is too costly.

Change Date
The date of placing the S-13 in commission has been changed from Friday to Saturday about 9 a. m.

Sent to Hospital.
John D. Durrence, seaman on the Submarine S-13 was removed from that ship to the yard hospital today for treatment.

Four From Norfolk
Four prisoners from Norfolk, in charge of Sergeant Russell, arrived at the local prison today.

His employer and associates on the farm said that he had been acting queerly lately. Today he disappeared from the vicinity and a search revealed tracks leading to the river. There were no signs to indicate that whoever had the tracks had returned from the river bank.

Mallory had made his will Friday and it was his clothing at the time of his disappearance.

Figures have been given out by the United States Coal Commission showing the cost of coal to the dealers. AGEAGE WITHOUT GLORY FACES RICH RED WINE

(By Associated Press)
Budapest.—There is promise of a bumper wine crop in Hungary, as a result of satisfactory weather conditions. But frontiers on the Czechoslovakian and Serbian sides, and the low purchasing power of the Austrian crown make it highly improbable that much Hungarian wine, including the costly Tokay, highly esteemed by connoisseurs, will even find its way out of the well-stocked cellars of Budapest.

The Hungarian wine industry is practically ruined by the new political conditions. Czechoslovakia and Serbia will not admit Hungarian wines, because they are wine-producing countries themselves. Austria cannot buy it because she is too poor, although she was formerly Hungary's chief customer.

Hungarian wine producers have been having a huge surplus on their hands for four years, and they see no way open to them except to continue crowding their cellars. But even that is impossible, as the cellars are already crowded.

Pershing's Personal Physician Prescribed For Russia's Ills; Medical Aid Saved Millions

DR. HENRY BEEUWKES

"How's the patient this morning, Doc?"

"Better, thank you. I've given her 80,000 pounds of quinine and 700,000 pounds of cod-liver oil, and it begins to look as if she would pull through."

Heroic treatment? Yes, but it was a very sick patient—the Russian bear. Henry Beeuwkes, M.D., of the United States Army, was the doctor in charge of the case, the famous doctor who prescribed for General Pershing of the A. E. F., and Russia was the harder patient of the two.

It is almost two years now that Dr. Beeuwkes has been sitting at her bedside, ministering to her wants and studying her many diseases. As chief of the Medical Division of the American Relief Administration, Dr. Beeuwkes has piled on Russia's 470,000 blankets, 570,000 sheets, 155,000 pillow and mattress covers, most of them plainly marked United States Army or American Red Cross. He has used 890,000 towels and 90,000 pairs of slippers for Russia while her recovery was in doubt, and 86,000 times he has completely outfitted one of her newborn sons or daughters from safety pin to socks.

He has bathed her with two and a half million pounds of soap. He has fumigated her with 800,000 pounds of sulphur. He has bandaged her with 8,000,000 gauze bandages, and dosed her with 377 different kinds of medicine. His was no homeopathic treatment; it took forty tons of chloroform and ether, 57 tons of castor oil, fifteen tons of aspirin and thirty-one tons of boric acid. When her worst ailment was recurrent typhus his prescription called for 700,000 ampules of neo-salvarsan. When she was dying with cholera and smallpox he inoculated and vaccinated her some 15,000,000 times.

It has been an expensive case. The medicines and medical supplies, the vaccines and serums, the surgical instruments and the bandages, the bedding and hospital clothing, the hot water bottles, the hypodermic needles and all the rest have run up to $7,600,000; and that bill was paid by the United States Government, which turned over $4,000,000 worth of surplus Army medical supplies for Russian relief, and by the American Red Cross, which contributed $3,600,000. But since Dr. Beeuwkes took the case, the Russian Commissar of Health says that there has been a decrease of 83 per cent in the number of typhus cases reported throughout Russia and of 75 per cent in recurrent typhus, while cholera cases have shown an even greater falling off.

But with all the medical attention, she has had, Russia might not have been well on the way toward complete convalescence if her diet had not been carefully looked after. The American Relief Administration has fed her some 900,000 tons of nourishing American food while Dr. Beeuwkes was prescribing for her. Now that she is stronger the doctor is planning to discontinue his visits. Colonel Haskell, the director of the Russian Unit of the American Relief Administration, has also decided that the emergency has passed and has advised the Chairman of the A. E. F., Herbert Hoover, that he will end the feeding at harvest time.

yard are making big headway. They have ripped out almost all of the inside of the old building and some of the cells on the back, where an extension will be built. While the contractors have until the first of the year they expect to finish in four months' time.

Once the barracks are ready, the marine guard will be moved back and the present barracks turned over to the navy and may possibly be used as a submarine base.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

The Streets in Kittery
Kittery, Me., July 8.
Editor Herald:—It is, as you probably know, a common by-word among motorists, teamsters and pedestrians that you never have to ask where you are when you cross any line to get in Kittery. You know you are in Kittery for the simple reason that in no section of the country is there such terrible roads. Kittery has 43 miles of roads and where can you find one mile of good roads (State road excepted)? York has 176 miles and where can you find a bad road? And the road repairing in York is practically done. What has Kittery done. Take for instance, the Rogers road. Kittery appropriated $1000 to spend on this road, the main traveled road outside of the state road, and as yet not one rock has been raked or dug out of it; not a hole has been filled in, or in fact not one cent has been expended on this main road to the village and navy yard as yet. From Remick's Corner to the navy yard station is just one mass of boulders, gulleys and holes.

Why, I ask, cannot Kittery have as good roads as Elliot or York? What is the answer. Put some one at the head who knows what to do and I think that there would be some improvement for ever so little would show up very quickly. Any one doubting this description of said road can verify these statements by going over it and seeing for themselves.

BURNED HIS MONEY TO KEEP HIS SANITY

Boston, July 10.—Rory Johnson, 33, a gypsy, who said she lived in Medford was found guilty yesterday in the So. Boston court before Judge Josiah H. Dean where she was charged with the larceny of $703 from Patrick Manning at 999 West Broadway, South Boston. Judge Dean sentenced her to one year in the Charles Street jail. She appealed and was held in $200 for the superior court.

According to Manning, the Johnson woman who advertised as a phrenologist at a store in South Boston, told him he would go crazy in three months unless he removed all his money from the bank. Each day the woman apparently burned the money to treat Manning with the ashes. Finally the patient became suspicious and told the police. The woman, when arrested, denied all knowledge of the matter.

Evidence Which Saves
Owner From Three Months in Jail

Judge Thomas P. Riley of the Malden police court had before him on Tuesday Lawrence Bacon for keeping and exposing intoxicating liquor. When the booze was offered as evidence, Judge Riley took a sniff to the bottle and said:

"This is the first good liquor I have seen in Malden for a long time. It is real whisky, not hooch. Bacon, your fine is $100. If this had been man-killing moonshine I would have added three months in jail on top of the fine." The judge warned that he will send all poison bootleggers that come before his bench to the house of correction.

CHATS WITH YOUR GAS MAN

BECAUSE gas is such a clean fuel, the housewife often overlooks the fact that food particles and dust have access to the burners and will interfere with good service unless removed.

A stiff-bristled brush kept for the purpose keeps the top of the burners free from dirt, and may be used for cleaning all places hard to reach. To clean the inside of the burner—a very necessary thing to do—boil it in a solution of ordinary washing soda. This removes the dust and grease in the throat of the burner, which interferes with the proper flow of air and gas. Rinse the burners well and dry at once to prevent rusting.

Cleanliness is the first and most important requisite for a well-behaved gas range. Many a good range has had its days of usefulness cut right in two by neglect.

RAPS SUNDAY GOLF PLAYERS

Beverly Pastor Says They Keep Caddies From Church

Beverly, July 9.—Rev. William E. Jones, pastor of the Dane street, Congregational church in a sermon delivered Sunday, scored Sunday golf players for the employing of young boys on the Lord's Day as caddies, when they should be at church and Sunday school.

In his sermon he said: "There are some things relating to golf which are frowned upon by the golfer himself, will some day be stopped through legislation. The golfer who is too lazy to carry his own golf sticks and to chase his own golf balls on Sunday does not need golf, he needs a physician."

"What incongruity!" A golfer goes out on Sunday morning for exercise and then hires some boy who has been exercising all the week to exercise for him. The incentive for the boy being out there is the profit which he makes. It is a financial consideration with him, and the parent who permits the child to go out and carry the golfer's sticks has also a financial consideration. Here is a case where a golfer and parents are willing to become partners to the destruction of the boy's moral sense and spiritual development.

"My contention is not with Sunday golf, but the employment of children by golfers on Sunday. The liquor traffic is being destroyed because it is the enemy to liberty, and when public opinion is aroused to the point where the moral safety of children is at stake, then golfers will become their own golfers on Sunday, or legislation will prevent them from playing golf at all on the Sabbath."

"Then we'll hear from another source a cry for personal liberty. Liberty comes as we train our youth to respect at least one day as that belonging to the Lord. They must know that it is a holy day and not a holiday."

THE BATTLE OF SANTIAGO

(Portland Express)
The fact was passed almost unnoticed by the American press and people that last Tuesday was the 25th anniversary of the naval battle of Santiago, which resulted in the destruction of the flower of the navy of Spain and brought to a successful termination the successful three months' skirmish which we had been fighting with that nation.

The war with Spain was an easy war but it produced a lot of thrills for the people of this country; the fight at Santiago proving the climax of the national exultation and rejoicing which the conflict inspired. The joy that the victory caused was not a joy that the great war had ended and that this country was once more at peace. All knew that we would win the war and far as our domestic affairs were concerned, the people at home hardly would have known that we were engaged in a conflict. The fervor that Dewey's victory at Manila Bay and the winning of the battle at Santiago had aroused was inspired by sentiments of pride and national glorification.

The Civil War had ended nearly 35 years before and the three and a half decades that had intervened before we crossed swords with Spain had witnessed our greatest growth and expansion. Before the War of the Rebellion was fought the U. S. was a loose confederation of states, which even the most determined nationalists feared might soon crumble into groups of weak republics. But at Appomattox localism had been forever rendered a dead issue and there had been born the great united nation of which Geo. Washington and Alexander Hamilton had dreamed and for which Marshall and Webster fearlessly contended.

IN QUESTION

This statue of "The Virgin and Child," standing in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, has been branded as a reproduction of the original in testimony in a French court. The charge has stirred up artists of two continents.

The new nation grew rapidly in strength and grandeur until it had become apparent to all Americans that its might was the peer of the power of earth.

Quite naturally the young giant among the nations was not averse to testing out the powers of which it was newly conscious and the war with Spain afforded the opportunity that perhaps was not sought, but certainly was not wholly unwelcome.

We believed that no nation on earth would be able to stand against us and the speedy and complete victory over decrepit Spain turned that belief to conviction.

The first news of the engagement at Santiago reached Portland the evening of July 3. The information came first in the meager bulletins that were then flashed over the Associated Press wires. Portland was on the eve of a big celebration of the Fourth and was entertaining a regiment of Canadian soldiers. The streets were thronged with gay and happy crowds and when the local newspapers began to post their bulletins the good natured celebrators became a throng of frenzied rejoicers, the visiting Canadians being no less enthusiastic in their display of feelings of joy than our own citizens.

It was a wonderful occasion and we may never look upon its like again. Twenty years later we learned more about what a real war is. We rejoiced when the news of the signing of the armistice was broadcast over the republic. But our joy and our exultation then was tempered by the saddened consciousness of the tragic cost of that great victory. We had found out in the few months that we had been lending our aid in bringing peace in Europe that war is not to be engaged in lightly and that whatever the result, the cost is fearful to contemplate.

KILBANE HAS MUCH MONEY TO PLOW BUSINESS FIELD

(By Associated Press)
Cleveland, July 10.—After nearly a month's rest on his farm near Vermilion, John Kilbane, world's featherweight boxing champion, until he met Eugene Criqui in New York is ready to settle down to the life of a business man. His friends have estimated his financial assets at a quarter of a million dollars.

Johnny will become a business man without any regrets at having lost the title, although as he says now, he felt regret when he staggered to his feet immediately following the knockout. "No more fighting for me," Johnny has said. "I can't fight any more, anyway. The old fight was gone in the Criqui fight, my hands were bad and I had nothing. And to meet a little fighter of Criqui's type you needed everything."

"I have appreciated the way my friends rallied about me after I had been beaten. When I returned to Cleveland 11 years ago after beating Abe Attell for the championship, 100,000 people met me at the depot. A few hundred of my friends met me when I returned from the Criqui fight. They were downcast but I want them to know that I am not at all blue; that I'm glad I'm no longer the champion. Johnny says his only interest in boxing in the future will be centered in Al Zeimer, his sparring partner for years, whom he wants to send after Criqui."

RAILROAD NOTES

It is reported that the Belt Line railway in Chicago will soon be placed under new management and there is a possibility that the Pere Marquette will become one of the joint owners of the railroad.

At present the Chicago road is owned by the 12 leading roads now having terminals in Chicago and there is indication that the Pere Marquette will be added to the list of roads now in control and will continue to use the Baltimore and Ohio terminal to handle its freight in Chicago.

The French government is now reported in full control of the Krupp locomotive works in Essen and their seizure has caused much surprise all through the Ruhr district.

The Maine railroads are handling much freight which with the large passenger business is keeping them very busy. It is expected that the next monthly report of the Maine Central will show a general improvement in general income and operating costs.

The hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission on request of New England governors in reference to the proposed consolidation of New England roads will be held in September. The time originally called was a date in July, but it was not deemed advisable to change to a later date that more extensive study should be made and a greater amount of data secured for presentation at the time of the hearing.

LOCAL WOMAN LOW GOLFER AT WOMAN'S MEET

Mrs. G. W. Webber of the Country Club was low gross in the women's golf tournament held on Monday at the Beaver Meadow Country Club in Concord. Mrs. Webber played the course in 87, and Mrs. Rouse of Manchester was second with 90. Mrs. T. W. Cochran of the Country Club was a hundred and Mrs. P. C. Lockwood who is also a member of the Country Club but who plays from Manchester, was also 100.

There were forty-five women present from different parts of the state and the golf showed an improvement over the other two meets. The next match will be at the Mojalaka Club of Franklin.

ENGLAND TO PLANT MILLIONS OF FISH IN NORTH SEA BANKS

(By Associated Press)
London.—The Dogger Bank is to be re-placed, announces the English press, indulging in its ancient and honorable weakness for punning. Since the famous North Sea fishing grounds were disturbed by the bombardments and mine explosions of the war, only half-sized catches have rewarded the efforts of trawlers. To remedy the shortage eight million plaice, the most marketable of fish, will be transported from continental fishing grounds where the breed is best. A system of closed fishing grounds for the Dogger Bank, such as exist in all English rivers, also is proposed, with "No Fishing" signs theoretically posted around a belt of water 300 miles long off the Dutch and Danish coasts. Steam trawlers and motor vessels of more than 50 horsepower will not be allowed within that area.

LEAGUE DIVIDED ON QUESTION OF DISARMAMENT

(By Associated Press)
Geneva.—The League of Nations appears to be moving toward a deadlock in its efforts to bring about a general reduction of armaments. The special committee that was to draft, for proposal to all League members, a general treaty to that end, with a mutual pact of guarantee to give effect to Article Ten of the covenant, has failed to accomplish anything. It is divided between the Cecil project for a general guarantee pact, and a French substitute providing for limited agreements between two or more members.

The success of any such project calls for the assurance of security to such countries as France and Poland, which make it a requisite condition to any reduction in armaments. The French delegation insists that the Cecil project for a general guarantee pact does not give that security because several of the smaller members of the League, such as Switzerland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden, have made it clear that they will remain outside of it. These countries are not counted upon to furnish military aid under such an agreement, but their absence from the combination, it is argued, would make it impossible to apply the blockade to Germany, for instance, and un-

THE BEST THE FARMS PRODUCE

By WALTER W. HEAD

First Vice-President, American Bankers Association

Walter W. Head

Every banker and business man in the country is interested in the farm from another viewpoint than merely a place to raise farm products and livestock. Above all the farm is one of the places where we can best bring up our boys and girls. Thousands of men and boys each year are flocking to the city. Clerks in the city are barely eking out an existence and they cannot expect to receive much more in the way of compensation.

But back on the farms are men working for a reasonable return, and in addition they have their houses, the wonderful sunshine above in the daytime, the wonderful fresh air and all the things that the soil produces. The boy who is raised on the farm will have an entirely different aspect of life and approach the various problems with which he has to deal in later years in a different way from the boy who is raised in the city.

In this period of unrest we are certainly vitally interested in rearing both on the farms and in the cities boys and girls with the proper outlook for the future, imbued with the belief that the activity in which they are engaged is, after all, something that will provide them both with the necessary things of life and with happiness. For in happiness there is contentment, and in contentment in America there is safety for our institutions.

Every single banker should feel that the problems his farmer customers have to contend with are not only the farmer's problems but his problems as well. He should feel not only that the farmer must be prosperous so that he can deposit more in his bank, giving the banker more to loan and thereby increasing his profits, but that also there is something that cannot be measured in dollars and cents. It is the thought of rendering such service to their customers—regardless of whether they are farmers, or men working in the shops, or big business men of the cities—that will bring not only prosperity but contentment as well. The banker should take as his motto: "Who serves best profits most."

GOOD LIQUOR NEED SAYS THE JUDGE

Makes Life Bearable When Freedom is Curtailed, Prisoner Hears

New York.—Victor Sergi was arrested May 31 in his restaurant, Brooklyn, where he is alleged to have had in possession a bottle of whiskey. When the case came up for hearing no officer appeared to press the complaint. Magistrate Folwell smiled with those in the court room when the clerk announced the nature of the charge.

Magistrate Folwell asked Assistant District Attorney Sylvester Sabbatino what should be done and the following colloquy took place:

"Your honor, Attorney Wheeler, of the Italian-Cage law is still in force."

"Who says so?"

"Wheeler of the Antisaloone League, the man who is known from coast to coast."

"Why, I thought Rockefeller officiated at the Antisaloone League's funeral long ago."

In dismissing the charge against Sergi, Magistrate Folwell said that "good whiskey is a stimulant necessary to make life bearable in these times when we have so few liberties."

SAYS EUROPE SHOULD REFRAIN FROM GIVING AMERICA ADVICE

(By Associated Press)

Paris.—"America knows its own business best, can judge for itself whether or not it will join the League of Nations, and this without any advice from European countries," Gabriel Hanotaux, former French Minister of Foreign Affairs, said recently to The Associated Press.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the United States will eventually cooperate more closely in European affairs, but whether this takes shape in the form of joining the League is a matter for Americans to decide," Mr. Hanotaux continued. "America is well able to look after its own affairs, and it is my impression that no blame can be directed against Washington from Europe because of failure of the American senate to ratify the pact of the League of Nations."

"For the present it behooves us to try and settle our own muddled situation before attempting to give advice to America," Mr. Hanotaux concluded.

Tuesday was a quiet day in traffic lines.

PRINCE OF WALES ADDS TO FAME OF KING CARACTACUS

Birmingham, England.—Perched on the arm of a chair and smoking a big cigar, the Prince of Wales recently joined vigorously with the Bishop of Birmingham, the lord mayor, and many young men in singing the chorus of "Caractacus" which ends thus: "The stick that tanned the rousers of the boy who shouted 'Beaver' to the man who put the powder on the faces of the harem of the King Caractacus."

This occurred at an informal gathering in the lounge of a club presented to ex-servicemen, which the prince had just formally opened.

NEW CATBOAT TROPHY REPLACES TAFT CUP

(By Associated Press)
Toledo.—A new trophy, offered by

Commodore S. O. Richardson, Jr., of the Toledo Yacht Club, and named for him, will be the prize which catboats of the lower lakes will seek in the regatta for their class to be held in Maumee Bay, July 12, 13 and 14. The trophy, emblematic of the catboat championship of the lower lakes will take the place of the President Taft cup, the prize of 14 annual races, given in 1909 by the former chief executive.

Competition for the Richardson trophy will be under conditions similar to those that governed racing for the Taft trophy. Each club will be permitted to enter three boats. The Taft cup has become the permanent property of the Toledo Yacht Club, having been presented to Commodore Richardson recently at a testimonial dinner at his club.

The catboat contest will be held preliminary to the annual Inter-Lake
Yacht association's regatta at Put-in-

Bay, starting Sunday, July 15, and continuing through the week.

EXERTS MORAL INFLUENCE FROM SIDE-DOOR PULLMAN

Angora, Asia Minor—The only American representative in this far-off corner of Asia is a young Marylander, Charles Imbrie, of Baltimore. His duties include that of consul, trade commissioner, and counselor to thousands of non-Muslims who are not popular in Turkey at the moment, and who believe any American can perform miracles for them.

Mr. Imbrie had been living a hand-to-mouth existence in the poverty stricken city for more than a year, but when he married Miss Katherine Gillespie of New York, director of the Near East Relief Orphanage, recently, he thought it would be well to go home hunting.

Angora, however, has what probably is the most acute housing shortage of any city in the world, hence the young couple decided to set up housekeeping in the only box car to let in town, and now the American flag waves from its sliding door.

Although a bit cramped for room, especially when company calls, the American home on wheels is the cleanest place in Angora. It stands on a railway siding and is always ready to be coupled to a train for one of Mr. Imbrie's trips of inspection to outlying parts of Turkey. During these journeys, Mrs. Imbrie carries on her housework as usual. In fact she finds a certain advantage in being able to take her house with her in her travels with her husband, and says that she will miss it when she returns to western civilization.

William J. O'Brien of Lynn, an ex-navy man who was arrested while illegally wearing a sailor's uniform, and who said he was attached to a ship at the Portsmouth navy yard, was sentenced to three months in the Plymouth, Mass., jail by Judge Lowell of the U. S. District Court on Tuesday. O'Brien had been doing some panhandling around Boston while wearing the uniform. He stated first that his ship was at Newport and got away with it.

BULGARIA MUST HAVE AN OUTLET

Sofia, Bulgaria, July 10.—"Bulgaria must have her promised outlet to the Aegean; she will not be throttled," declared Premier Zankoff in an interview today in connection with the outcome of the Near East Peace Conference at Lausanne. The action of the Lausanne conference in giving Karagatsch, in the Adrianople district, to Turkey, had put Turkey and Greece in a position to bar Bulgaria's way to the sea, he pointed out.

"Bulgaria," continued the premier, "made many promises in the treaty of Neuilly and has fulfilled them all. The powers made only one concrete promise and the fulfillment of that is further off than ever. Our delegate at Lausanne has been instructed not to consent to any arrangement for a Bulgarian route to the Aegean through foreign territory. The Bulgarian people appeal to the Powers to carry out their one promise to Bulgaria."

ONE AUTO FOR EVERY 8.5 PERSONS IN U. S.

New York, July 11.—Motor cars and trucks registered in the United States July 1 totalled 13,048,128, according to a survey just completed by automotive industries. This was a gain of 2,440,000 over the July 1, 1922, total, an increase of about 23 percent. Registrations have already passed the December 1922 high mark by 683,751, thus indicating that the final 1923 figures will show another gain of 1,000,000 or more.

Every state had more vehicles registered than on May 1 a year ago, while 37 states have already gone over the final 1922 total.

There is now one motor vehicle for every 8.5 persons in the United States. High percentage of increases are shown in many of the southern states, particularly in West Virginia, Kentucky, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Florida. California shows the densest automobile population with one for every 4.09 persons.

Ohio had the greatest actual increase over last July, with a gain of 215,000, while West Virginia had the greatest percentage gain, 4.06 percent.

WHAT TO EAT IN HOT WEATHER AND WHEN TO EAT IT

New York, July 10.—The human body requires food to generate energy in warm weather as well as in colder temperatures, but not so much and of an entirely different character, according to a statement issued by the health department, in an effort to relieve suffering from summer heat.

Food chemists can figure accurately the amount of food necessary for persons in all various occupations. By few people know how to supply their bodies with fuel energy in the heated season. Many books on food products, it is suggested, has a table the use of which will help provide such forms for a family in all seasons, especially during the warmer weather.

Persons engaged in hard labor require meat, but during the Summer it should be used very sparingly. Otherwise indigestion may result.

Water is an essential, and from six to eight glasses of liquid should be consumed each day.

Hard foods, the chewing of which stimulates secretions, are a necessary aid to digestion. Raw fruits, fibrous vegetables, nuts, toast and crusts of bread are suggested.

Suggested menus follow:

Breakfast—Loaf bread (eschew hot bread and biscuit during heated season), cereal, package variety preferable (hot oatmeal is decidedly heating); use butter sparingly; grapefruit, orange juice, cantaloupe or other seasonal fruits, or stewed fruits such as rhubarb, prunes, apricots or baked apple.

Dinner, the health department suggests, should be the mid-day meal, if possible, but if inconvenient during the week, should be made the order of Sundays and holidays. Meat during the Summer should be served only at this meal. Stewed chicken, minced chicken on toast, veal chops or croquettes and broiled mutton, hot or cold, are preferable meats. Vegetables should consist of buttered beets, mashed potatoes, string beans, rice, tomatoes, peas or spinach. Salads of romaine, lettuce, dandelions or fruits are the best.

Desserts of shortcake, currant jelly with bread, sponge cake, lady fingers, sweet crackers, ice cream or ice custards are suggested for the end of a perfect hot weather meal.

Supper may consist of creamed macaroni on toast, baked potato or stewed tomatoes and rice or iced tea or coffee or a glass of milk. Stewed fruits, iced jelly or ice cream is suggested for dessert.

HELP HERBERT HOOVER

RUBBER importations to the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, show an approximate total of 775,000,000 pounds, an amount equaling fully three-fourths of the world's production.

Competent authorities assert that the American automobile utilizes not less than one-half of the world's annual rubber supply.

Responsibility for advancement in the art of tire building rests solely with the tire manufacturer, but safeguarding our future needs of raw rubber—fully 70% of which is imported from countries laboring under burdensome and uneconomic tax laws and recently enacted restrictions—makes it the duty of every motorist in the United States to advocate the placing of rubber production under the American flag and in tax-free districts.

It is the patriotic obligation of every American car owner, when opportunity affords, to express approval of the efforts of Mr. Herbert Hoover, our far-visioned Secretary of Commerce, who has, through Congress, secured appropriation for an already active campaign of world-wide investigation of the possibilities for an independent or, at least, a tax-free source of rubber supply.

LONG LIFE

In buying a motor car, consider what the cost will be when divided over a period of years.

What is the car's reputation for satisfactory service after the first year? After the second? And after the third—and fourth?

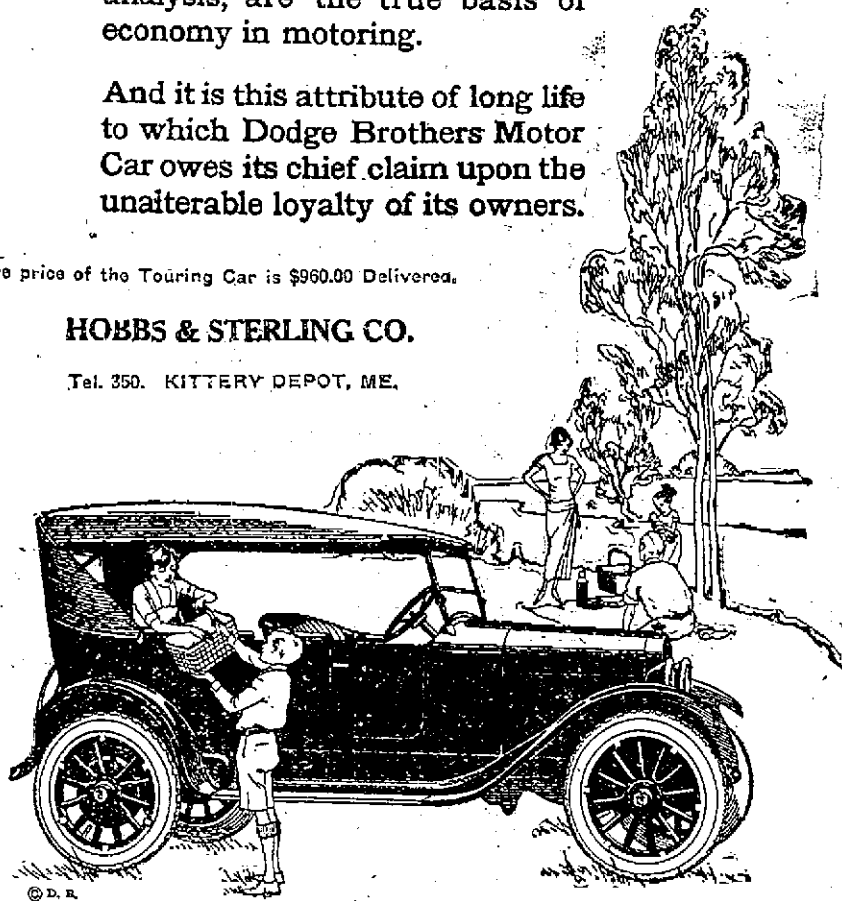

These considerations, in the final analysis, are the true basis of economy in motoring.

And it is this attribute of long life to which Dodge Brothers Motor Car owes its chief claim upon the unalterable loyalty of its owners.

FIVE HURT AS CAR BUMPS TREE

Concord, Mass., July 10.—A soldier was injured and another man, a woman and two children were badly shaken up and bruised, when the automobile in which they were riding met with a mishap at the corner of Elm and Wood streets in Concord, today. The soldier, who was driving, did not notice that Elm street was under repair soon enough, for he swerved the car suddenly into Wood street from Elm, and it turned over on its side, after smashing into an elm tree.

The occupants of the car removed both registration plates, and it was only through one who witnessed the accident and took down the number that Chief William G. Ryan of the Concord police learned the name of the owner. It was registered in the name of H. S. Schermerhorn of 2562 Washington St., Roxbury. According to a witness, the soldier was cut about the lips. The car was removed late in the day.

WIRE WORMS ARE MENACE TO THE CORN

Augusta, Me.—State Horticulturist George A. Yeaton has received a report from Monmouth that wire worms were destroying considerable sweet corn in that section. A field of corn was reported to be practically ruined at Days Corner.

Mr. Yeaton states that poisons have no effect in the control of the wire worm menace. The only way to combat it is by clean cultivation, plowing late in the fall to break up the pupae cases so that the action of freezing and thawing will kill them. Late plowing will bring many of the adult worms to the surface, where exposed to the elements they will die.

Mr. Yeaton plans to take a trip immediately to that section to explain to the farmers the method of combating the wire worm menace.

DR. COOK INDICTED FOR OIL FRAUD

Cleveland, July 10.—Twenty-six Texas oil promoters, including Dr. Frederick A. Cook, former Arctic explorer, were indicted by the Federal grand jury here today on charges of using the mails to defraud and conspiracy to make fraudulent use of the mails.

The indictments were returned after Federal District Attorney A. E. Bensen had presented scores of witnesses to the jury in the Government's drive to stem the flood of bogus oil stocks. Cook and twenty-three of his associates are alleged to have defrauded Ohioans through the sale of the stock of the Petroleum Producers' Association, a Fort Worth, Texas, oil promotion enterprise of which Cook was "president and sole trustee."

The bridesmaid was attired in a tan costume and carried American Beauty roses. The reception was followed by a wedding breakfast.

The honeymoon included an auto trip over the Mohawk Trail.

The happy couple were the recipients of a large number of costly and useful gifts, choice reminders of the high esteem in which they are held by their many friends. They will reside in Portsmouth.

(By Associated Press)
On Board U. S. S. Henderson with President Harding—Carrying with him memories of a most pleasant day spent in the Alaskan territory, President Harding sailed from Juneau early today in further search of information relating to Alaskan problems. He intended to stop for a short time at Skagway en route to Seward instead of making a visit to the town on the return trip to the continental U. S.

Anchorage, Alaska.—A number of secret service men have arrived here and deputy U. The railway and the highway are being patrolled.

AT THE SHOALS

At the close of the Sunday meetings of the Unitarian Summer Meetings Association at the Isles of Shoals, a three-days' Alliance conference began with a candlelight service, led by Mrs. Oscar C. Gallagher of Brookline, Mass., president of the Alliance. The little meetinghouse was entirely too small to hold those who wished to attend.

The theme of the three days was the "Alliance Needs." Rev. Palfrey Perkins of Weston, Mass., was the speaker on Monday morning. He told that the crying need of the Alliance is young blood and to bring in that young blood is the service problem it has to face. The gap between the Sunday School and the church is being filled with increasing success by the Young People's Religious Union and he emphasized the need to fill that other gap between the Sunday School and the Alliance.

"Alliance Responsibilities and Our Need to Meet Them" was the subject of a fine talk by Mrs. Harold B. B. Speight of Boston. Mrs. Roger W. Cutler of Dover, Mass., newly appointed to the head of the religious education committee of the Alliance, gave a talk on "What the Alliance Has Meant to Me." She urged her hearers to realize that their responsibility to the Alliance began with themselves and did not end with mere loyal attendance at meetings.

Rev. Palfrey Perkins spoke on Monday evening and on Tuesday the speakers were Rev. Albert C. Dieffenbach, D.D., Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney and Carl B. Wetherell.

WOMEN TO HOLD FOUR DAYS' TOURNAMENT FOR THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

The dates of the New Hampshire Women's Golf Championship have been changed and it will be held at the Nashua Country Club on August 28, 29, 30 and 31. The original plan of holding a two-day tournament has been abandoned and it will be a four days program that will be used, so that only eighteen holes will be played each day. Last year the program called for a thirty-six hole tournament and it was considered a little too strenuous for the women and this year eighteen holes a day will only be necessary.

AUTO KILLS AGED FARMER AT RAYMOND

Mrs. Elias A. McQuade, the Driver of Machine, Exonerated by Court at Epping

County Solicitor J. R. Waldron, Sheriff Ceylon Spinney and Medical Referee Dr. E. B. Eastman, were called to Epping on Tuesday in the case of Mrs. Elias A. McQuade who was given a preliminary hearing in connection with the death of Horace Whittier of Raymond, 85, a retired farmer, who was accidentally killed at Raymond by an auto driven by Mrs. McQuade. Judge Gilmore ordered the woman released declaring that the case was purely accidental.

The aged man was hit by the car and knocked to the ground despite the efforts of James Chapperton, who ran into the street and attempted to pull the older man from the path of the car. His efforts were futile, and he himself was badly injured, for he caught the bumper of the car to save himself and was dragged 300 feet. After striking the two men, Mrs. McQuade apparently lost control of the machine for instead of stopping the car, she increased the speed. She said after the affair that her foot struck the accelerator instead of the brake.

Asbury Small, a witness of the affair from the sidewalk, ran to the side of the machine, and jumping on the running board, applied the brake which finally brought it to a halt about six inches from the front of Bates' livery stable.

Whittier had just left the barber shop, and started to cross the street. He was blind and was using crutches because of infirmities caused by his age and the illness of a year ago, from which he had never fully recovered.

Apparently he did not see the machine, nor did Mrs. McQuade see the man. The mudguard of the car struck him on the temple, killing him instantly. The medical examiner said he died of a fractured skull. He fell directly in the path of the car, but in such a way that the wheels did not pass over his body.

SHOWING 'PEP' IN PAGEANT REHEARSALS

If all the other groups in the pageant show as much pep as the young men who rehearsed for the Indian parts last evening then the pageant will certainly be a success. This group is made up mainly of college boys home for the summer and they will be added to the main Indian groups cared for by the Red Men.

The first group rehearsal of combined groups occurs tonight when Red Men from three places, also the K. of C. men entered, join forces to rehearse some big scenes. Pageant participants are now accustomed to read the daily announcements of rehearsals appearing in this paper, and the committee report much better attendance.

Every woman in that city who can sew and like to use a sewing machine is requested to give a little time to this work in the basement of the high school. From 9 in the morning until 5 p. m. from now until the pageant, many machines must run making costumes.

Ray Sovey, costume director, is certainly a speed artist cutting out costumes, and whether you sew or not, visit this unique establishment. You will get a conception of the magnitude of the pageant.

Call 1010, Pageant headquarters, and tell Mrs. Foster you will come and sew awhile. Don't be bashful or wait for an invitation—many women are giving their time to the work—do your share to make this celebration a success.

Organizations are again warned to engage a band if they intend to do so. Also get an estimate of the number of people to be in line. The parade route must be established soon for the decorators to arrange their plans.
